Zeitungen des 17. Jahrhunderts

Digitalisierung der vollständigen Zeitungen des 17. Jahrhunderts

Ein Projekt der Deutschen Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG) (Mai 2013 - April 2015)

Inhaltsübersicht

Zwischen Mai 2013 und April 2015 werden in der Staats- und Universitätsbibliothek Bremen die vom Institut Deutsche Presseforschung zusammengetragenen vollständigen Zeitungen des 17. Jahrhunderts digitalisiert. In der Digitalen Sammlung "Zeitungen des 17. Jahrhunderts" bieten wir Ihnen den kostenfreien Zugang zu diesen Zeitungen aus dem Bestand der Staats- und Universitätsbibliothek Bremen. Verwenden Sie die Suche - siehe oben - nach Titeldaten oder stöbern Sie in den Kategorien der Box "Inhalt" auf der rechten Seite. Die einzelnen Zeitungsnummern werden langfristig auch als PDF-Dokumente kostenlos zum Download zur Verfügung stehen. Die Ausgaben- und Datumsanzeige befindet sich noch in Bearbeitung.

Die vorliegenden Zeitungen des 17. Jahrhunderts sind teils lückenhaft überliefert. Sollten Sie Kenntnis vom Standort fehlender Ausgaben haben melden Sie sich bitte bei uns.

“Once all 17th and 18th century newspapers are digitized and we have search engines, I am a happy person.”

„Wenn einmal alle Zeitungen des 17. und 18.Jhs. digitalisiert werden und man verfügt über die Suchmaschinen, bin ich ein glücklicher Mensch.“

„Facsimiles are nice and everything, but frustrating when you are looking for something in a newspaper and do not exactly know where you can find it. When an optical character recognition is too expensive or too difficult, keywording or semantic indexing could help. At least names and other identities could be found this way and link directly to the digitized page. Starting from this page, one could read further on. A lot to do, I know.”

„Faksimile-Ansichten sind hübsch und alles, aber frustrierend, wenn man etwas in den Zeitungen sucht, von dem man nicht schon genau weiß, wo es steht. Wo eine Volltextfassung zu teuer oder schwierig ist, da könnte eine Verschlagwortung/semantische Erschließung helfen, so dass zumindest Personennamen und andere Entitäten erfasst sind und direkt auf die digitalisierte Seite verweisen, so dass man von dort aus lesend den Inhalt weiter erschließen kann. Viel Arbeit, ich weiss.“

„Really bad, because it depends on accidents if you find or don't find the digital reproductions. A central evidence – similar to ANNO in Austria – would be necessary. Even if I know that there are digital reproductions in Bremen and navigate to the website, often I don't know where to look next.”

„Sehr schlecht, weil immer wieder von Zufällen abhängig ist, ob man die Digitalisate findet. Es wäre ein zentraler Nachweis - vergleichbar dem österreichischen Beispiel - nötig. Selbst wenn ich beispielsweise weiß, dass in Bremen Digitalisate vorhanden sein sollen und gehe auf die Homepage, dann stehe ich völlig ratlos da, wo ich nun weitersuchen soll.“

“I'm just happy about everything that is available digitized. I enjoy the Bremen project very much.”

„Ich bin einfach froh über alles, was mir digitalisiert zur Verfügung steht. Das Bremer Projekt genieße ich dabei schon sehr.“

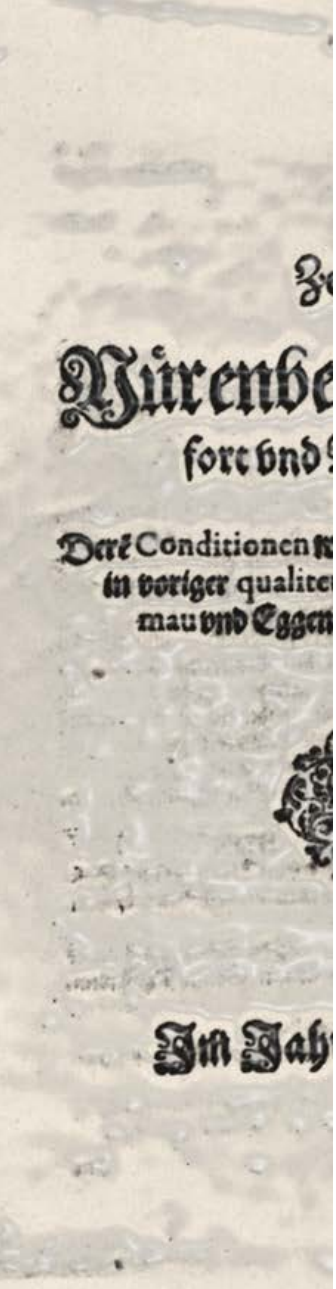

„Central, as a virtual reading room, following ANNO's example, with reporting obligation and at least links for all German institutions as well as systematic research for digitizations of German press in other countries

„Zentral, als virtuellen Zeitungslesesaal nach dem Beispiel von ANNO, mit Meldepflicht und mindestens Verlinkung für alle deutschen Institutionen sowie systematischer Suche nach Digitalisaten deutschsprachiger Presse in anderen Ländern.“

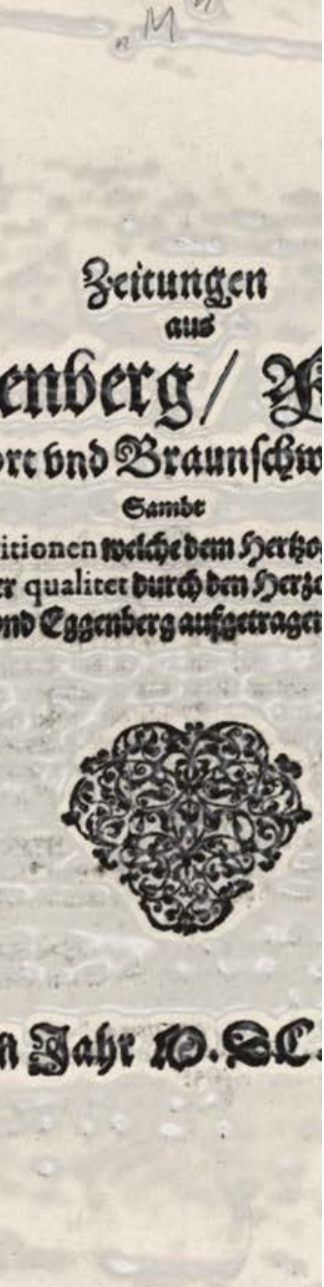

„It would be ideal if archives listed and digitized their stocks of newspapers. But for there is no complete bibliography of newspapers in German archives, such a registration and digitization will medium-term not take place.“

„Es wäre ideal, wenn Archive ihre Zeitungsbestände listen und digitalisieren würden. Da aber zu diesem Zeitpunkt keine komplette Bibliographie der Zeitungsbestände in Archiven vorliegt, wird eine solche Erfassung und Digitalisierung auf kurz- bis mittelfristige Sicht allerdings nicht stattfinden.“

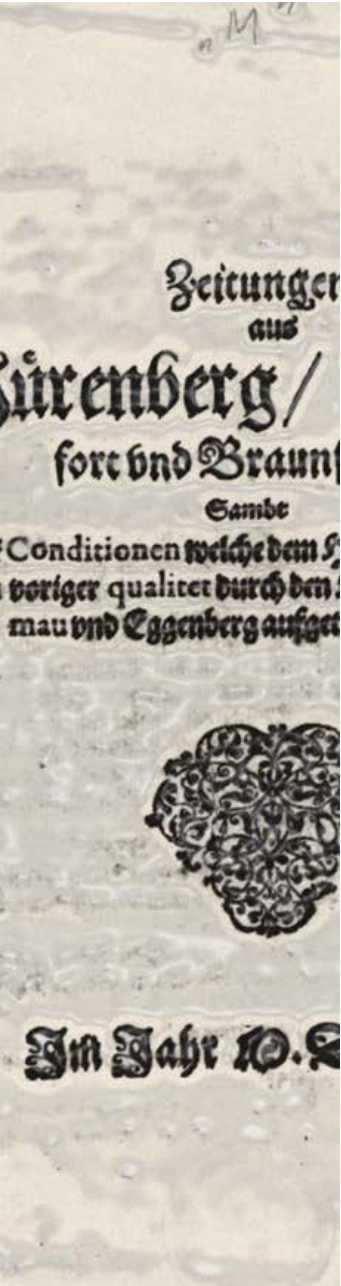

“One single overall bibliography or data basis where you can search in different ways (for metadata, periods, geographical areas, language areas, newspaper titles..), preferably with the option on full text search. – Additionally: semantic annotation of the full text: names of persons, locations (standardized and linked to the GND etc.), dates.”

„Eine EINZIGE übergreifende Bibliographie/Datenbank, in der man vielfältig (Metadaten, Zeiträume, geographische Räume, Sprachräume, Zeitungstitel...) suchen kann, vorzugsweise mit der Möglichkeit der Volltextsuche. – Ausserdem: semantische Annotation der Volltexte: Personen-, Ortsnamen (standardisiert und mit GND etc. verlinkt), Datumsangaben“

„Systematic researches are complicated, users have to rely on single suppliers (such as the state and university library of Bremen) or on chance discoveries (often via Europeana).”

“Systematische Recherchen werden dadurch erschwert, man ist mehr oder weniger auf Einzelanbieter (wie die SUB Bremen) angewiesen oder auf Zufallsfunde (oft via Europeana).”

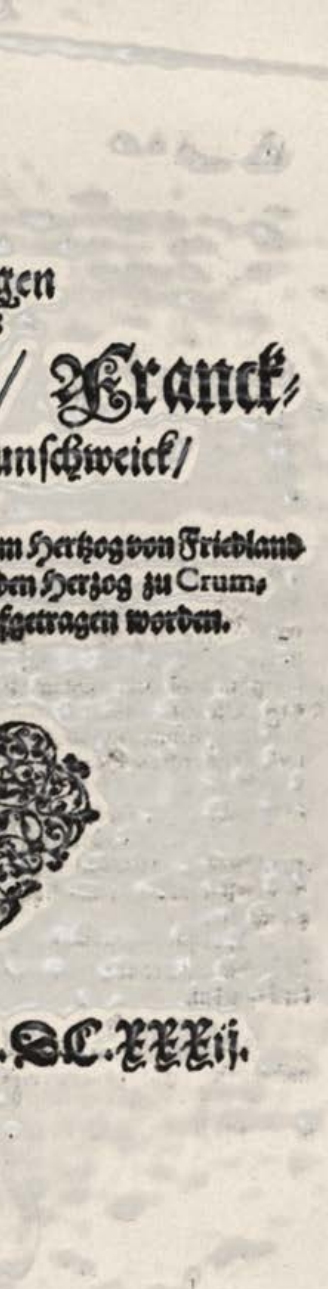

„Information on which titles have been digitized recently with which extent and intensity, would be great. Digitizing newspapers on demand would be a good way to directly provide source material for scientists.”

„Eine Information darüber, welche Titel in welchem Umfang und welcher Digitalisierungstiefe gerade zum Korpus hinzugefügt worden sind, wäre allgemein überaus hilfreich. Die Funktion „Wunschzeitung“ bei Digitalisierungsmaßnahmen halte ich für eine gute Strategie, die Forschung direkt mit Quellenmaterial zu versorgen“

“I need to have the possibility, according to my needs, to select according to location, year or title. Only afterwards I would want to change to another – of course comfortable – view. At least one, if not all newspapers should be full text researchable.”

„Ich muss sofort die Möglichkeit haben, entsprechend meinen Bedürfnissen nach Ort, Jahr oder Zeitungstitel auszuwählen, je nach Anliegen. Erst danach würde ich einen Wechsel in eine Ansicht vornehmen, die natürlich möglichst komfortabel sein sollte. Wenigstens eine, möglichst mehrere Zeitungen sollten volltextdurchsuchbar sein.“

“In general, more investigations like this to get to know the scientist’s desires.”

“Generell häufiger Befragungen wie diese, um die Wünsche der Wissenschaftsdisziplinen zu erfragen”

Thank you very much for your attention
